FROM THE PRESIDENT Sue Weinberg

The dog days of summer are upon us. Summer is usually a quiet time at Agudas Achim, even more so this year with Covid quarantines and social distancing requirements.

But behind the scenes we have been working! The Education committee will be sending out information on how classes will be handled in the coming year (spoiler – online for at least the fall semester). The Membership committee has been in contact with new and prospective members -WELCOME to our new members, I'm looking forward to meeting you over zoom and eventually in person. Adult Education has also been busy, they have lined up an exciting array of programming for late July through August, with more ideas in the pipeline. See the bulletin and the weekly emails for details. Tikun Olam has sponsored a blood drive and is discussing other activities. And of course Ritual is busy planning High Holiday services, which will be held via zoom.

I am excited about the reimagining of the Jewish Federation of the Corridor, led by Jody Braverman and Karen Michaeli Timmons. They co-sponsored the Community Bond and Iowa Freedom Riders presentation with the Adult Ed committee, and I am looking forward to more engagement with them.

We are also working on improving ways to contact the synagogue. When we initially closed the building we had no idea that the closure would be this long. As Karen and John are mostly working from home, most contact with the office has been via email, with the phone mostly only available for leaving messages. We are working on solutions to have the phones forwarded and able to be answered during normal business hours, as well as a way for the rabbi to be reachable by phone. Details will be available shortly.

I hope you are all staying healthy, and taking care of yourselves physically, mentally, and emotionally. Physical is easy — wear a mask and faceshield, wash your hands, use hand sanitizer, the protocols are well publicized. But mental and emotional health are just as important. My coping strategies are to turn the news off, unfollow or block negative people on Facebook, use a meditation app to help me sleep, and play with kittens! What are your strategies?

SCHOOL NEWS Sonja Spear

The cicadas are singing again. To me, their chirping is always bittersweet. It means that summer is coming to an end, but another exciting year is about to begin.

This year holds more mystery than most. As I write this, it is still not clear if the public schools will be meeting in person in the fall. But I do have plans for Sunday School.

Sunday School will meet remotely for the fall semester. Parents will receive a letter soon with details. Briefly, we are planning a combination of activities: holiday kits for families; brief zoom meetings by grade, and one-on-one tutorials for students preparing for bar or bat mitzvah. In addition, we would like to hold some outdoor family activities with appropriate precautions, if the weather permits and if our COVID numbers begin to fall.

School will be a little different when we can meet in person again. With the advice of the Education Committee and the consent of the Board, we are moving to consolidated program that meets on Sundays from 9:15-12:15. This program will include both Judaics and Hebrew for prayer. Students who are preparing for bar/bat mitzvah will make appointments individually or in pairs with the rabbi and the principal on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

We will be threading Hebrew through the program, starting by introducing letters in Kindergarten and by integrated Hebrew words into daily speech. In this way, we will create a foundation for introducing reading later on. To some extent, we have already been teaching Hebrew this way. Now that all the students will have the same experiences in the same classes together, it will be easier to build on this common foundation. A common foundation, in turn, makes it easier to teach Judaics such as Jewish culture, history, and ethics.

I am really looking forward to implementing this new program as soon as we can meet in person. Until then, I hope that families will find something fun in the holidays kits. More than anything, I look forward to seeing the kids in the fall, even if it can't be in person.

TIKUN OLAM NEWS Jody Braverman

The Tikun Olam committee is keeping busy despite COVID-19!

The committee is distributing loaner copies of shabbat prayer books Mishkan Tefilah and Lev Shalem plus Etz Hayim. Please contact Jody Braverman for more information at:

jtbraverman@yahoo.com.

Tikun Olam is promoting the DeGowin Blood Center's blood drive at the former University of Iowa Art Museum through the end of August. Google "DeGowin Blood Center" for information.

On July 27, Tikun Olam, the Adult Education Committees and the new Jewish Federation of the Corridor co-sponsored "Dialogue with Participants in the Community Bond Project and the Iowa Freedom Riders, featuring Ari Braverman and Julia Zalenski."

Members of the Tikun Olam committee, together with Rabbi Hugenholtz and other Agudas Achim members, recently participated in the Johnson County Interfaith Coalition's Change Assembly. This online gathering provided a forum for people of many faiths to address racism in our community. Nearly 100 people heard inspiring messages from area clergy, then joined one of eight breakout sessions on a variety of topics to focus on the repair necessary to become an anti-racist community.

Tikun Olam has started a Jigsaw Puzzle Exchange. We have several near new puzzles available now. If you are ready for a challenge or wish to place your current puzzle(s) in a new home, please contact Wendy Levy here.

The next Tikun Olam Zoom meeting is 7:00 on Wednesday, August 12. Let Jody know if you are interested in joining.
