June 2025 / Sivan-Tammuz 5785

FROM THE RABBI

Esther Hugenholtz

This is such a sweet time of year and I am savoring every temperate day before the summer heat hits. Spring in Iowa is idyllic (even if passes in the blink of an eye). My children are in their last week of school and Jewish summer camp beckons and many of us are starting to look forward to summer transitions.

The season of late spring and early summer breathes optimism. Flowers in bloom, the greenery around us still fresh and the temperatures warm rather than scorching. It is a dreamy time; a time for beginnings ripening into their fullness. No wonder the Torah was given in such a season, and as the Midrash reports, Mt. Sinai burst out in bloom.

In our communal life, we also look forward to beginnings ripening into their fullness. Our current Board has come close to fulfilling their two-year term and I could not be more grateful for their leadership. Little did they know that upon their installation in 2023, they would contend with some of the most devastating crises in Jewish history. Their term has not been easy; but they made a hard situation as easy as they could through forbearance, grace, wisdom and genuinely valuing our community's diversity. To hold all that and more was no small feat.

In addition to that, the President and the Board have worked exceedingly hard on updating and strengthening our community. New vision statement, ethics code, code of conduct and ongoing work on our Bylaws. This work is not glamorous but it is absolutely essential for the health and longevity of our community. It builds into our structures resiliency and transparency and fosters, to quote David Lubaroff one more time, 'respect and collaboration.' As we Jews know, God (rather than the devil!) is in the details. At this 'z'man torateinu', the season of the giving of our Torah, we know the power firsthand of legislation, rule of law, clear structures and a compelling shared vision to build a sacred community. At Sinai too, not all the laws and statutes were 'glamorous', but they were essential to the smooth and just governing of a ripening Israelite society.

Now, it would be too tempting for me to make a David Lubaroff = Moses quip, given both men became leaders as octogenarians, but the comparison is made with sincerity and love. David has been my sacred partner in all things: sometimes we were each other's mentors and sometimes each other's students, but always each other's equals with sensitivity, respect and a fair bit of humor. Like Moses, David has had to navigate challenging dynamics and asserting his leadership through grace rather than force, caring for us all. I myself have been the grateful recipient of his kindness, wisdom and compassion: and he was the one who encouraged me to start working out, so he's been good for my health too!

I am very excited to work with our new Board, carefully and thoughtfully assembled by Lori, our wonderful President-Elect. Lori has a vision and clarity that sees things for what they are and has the compassion to navigate them to a place where we need to be. It is my honor to serve beside her and her team.

Things are not easy in the world, and our synagogue does face challenges. We operate on a shoestring budget and need to plan for our future. I am grateful for the philanthropic initiatives under way under the competent and enthusiastic guidance of Jayne Sandler. We've had building mishaps (isn't 'home ownership' glamorous?), and we need to deepen our bench of volunteers and lay leaders, so that many hands can make light work. We are a thriving community but our vibrancy is not a natural occurrence: it is because of the hard work and loving attention of many who make this happen, often behind the scenes. So if you feel moved to contribute, either financially or otherwise, please let us know.

In closing, don't mistake this sweet and quiet time for inactivity! Lots of things will continue to happen throughout June and beyond. We will reinstate our Big Ideas Book Club now that our Torah for our Times project is completed. We have a bangin' Shavuot coming up. And we're going to paint the town pink (rainbow?) during Pride, so please connect with us over that too! Our interfaith initiatives, learners' service and much more are still on the agenda so make sure to read our communications.

All I can say is: thank you. Thank you to the Board President and the Board for two amazing, transformative years. We have truly worked and walked together. We can do great things.

FROM THE PRESIDENT- FINAL PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

David Lubaroff

Dear Congregants –

Here we are in June of 2025, at the close of my two years as president of Agudas Achim Congregation. It is my chance to look back, but more importantly, to look forward. My apologies if this message seems disjointed and disorganized but that is the way I feel after attempting to be more together and organized while leading the synagogue through highs and lows. In the Spring of 2021, I was finishing a term as Vice President during Sue Weinberg's presidency and Janice Weiner, as president-elect, was filling out her board during her 2021 to 2023 term as president. When Janice asked if I was interested in the position of president-elect, I considered it an honor and accepted the invitation. For the next two years we worked as a team. I owe a lot to Janice for the wealth of knowledge about running a synagogue in an era of change, how to respond in an atmosphere of dissent, lack of respect, and bullying. I knew then that my presidency was going to be very different from what it was when I was at the helm in 1981-1983. I was 83 years old when I accepted the position of president-elect and most of my family and friends thought I was crazy. They knew that I would be 85 when I became president and 87 when I completed my term. I have been called crazy throughout my life by many and perhaps there is some truth there. I am an emotional, caring, and caregiving person which may, at times feel a little crazy.

So why have I been on this track for four years? As president-elect, I witnessed some terrible behavior by people I respected. People that made things difficult for Rabbi Hugenholtz, Janice Weiner, and others and caused disruptions in the governance and religious activities at Agudas Achim. I accepted

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Janice's invitation with several goals, eliminating the chaos being at the top of the list. The others include working with our rabbi and the board in a previously described sacred partnership.

In some of my past bulletin messages, I wrote about the importance of forming a board of trustees with congregants who would work collegially to foster an atmosphere of respect & collaboration that would move the synagogue forward in a positive way. That tone was set during the first of two board retreats. In the two years, this board has accomplished many things that include development of a mission/vision statement, an ethics code, and a code of conduct. The current synagogue by-laws document is out of date and a new one is being developed, and programs to engage seniors and interfaith families are works in progress.

When Janice was president, she and I met every two weeks with Rabbi Hugenholtz, the goal being to review actions taken, discuss plans for future actions, troubleshoot when problems arose, and more. No topic was out of bounds. These biweekly meetings have continued during the last two years with Jeanne Cadoret and then Lori McMann as presidents elect. The discussions make for a smooth process in which issues are then taken to the executive committee and ultimately, the board. Progress is made with this system because the rabbi and lay leaders have multiple opportunities to strengthen current issues and develop new programs. Words cannot rightfully express my appreciation for this system and the people working within it. Everyone has the same goal, to maintain, as well as build, a strong synagogue that provides many spiritual, educational, and social opportunities for our congregants.

July 1st is a transition date with a new president and board to continue working toward these goals. Having worked closely with Lori McMann this past year, I know that she also has these goals. She will be a leader that will work hard and develop a positive relationship with her board to lead us through the next two years. Please give her your support.

In closing, I want to thank everyone with whom I have worked: the rabbi, the executive committee, the board and everyone that pitched in to move the synagogue forward. Our treasurer, Mindy Russell, is also stepping down. Her expertise in guiding us through challenging times has been superb and I thank her for her dedication to Agudas Achim. Finally, I cannot say enough about the strength and dedication of Rabbi Hugenholtz. Working with her has been wonderful, through traditional interactions as I have already described, but also on a personal level. We have developed a special relationship, and I not only think of her as my rabbi, but as my friend. That friendship also extends to her family, Dave Middleton, Jonathan, Noa, and Shifra.

As the famous correspondent Edwin R Murrow would say – Good night and good luck.

Regards,
David

SCHOOL NEWS

Sonja Spear

Sunday School ended with a picnic – indoors! We had big plans. We were going to light fires and roast marshmallows. We were going to eat our hot dogs outside. But Iowa's weather had other ideas. Winds reached gusts of 25 mph. I was afraid that picnic might end up in the merry old land of Oz. Or, more likely, a flying ember from the fire pit would set fire to the woods behind the synagogue. (If that happened, I think we would have to flee the country.) So, no fire and no marshmallows. We still had hot dogs, thanks to fearless grill master Jim Blum, who isn't afraid of wind. Aaron Andrew and Lana Zak brought some beautiful fruit, which provided some healthy alternatives to the chocolate cake. (But let's be real – no amount of fruit ever stopped a kid from eating chocolate cake.) Meanwhile, Lori McMann and the Social Committee, not to mention Doug and Bev, quietly and efficiently helped with set up and clean up. Afterwards, a wonderful person named T.J., whose last name I didn't catch, just picked up a broom and pitched in.

The kids rose to the occasion by leading a "camp-style" service. They even insisted on singing more verses to Lekha Dodi than the rabbi had intended!

That's what the school's like most of the time. We make plans. Something unexpected happens. But we adapt, kind people pitch in, and it turns out that the kids know more than we thought.

It's been a wonderful year. To mention only a few highlights, we had one of our best – and most audible – Purim spiels. The kids had marvelous discussions about everything from the hardening of Pharaoh's heart to what it means to say that the world rests on Torah, mitzvot, and avodah. We made flowers for Shavuoth. Like Ruth, we gleaned the fields, raising more than $400.00 for the Coralville Food Bank.

I am so grateful for all of the teachers and madrichim who make it happen every Sunday. They are simply the best group of people I could ever hope to work with. And, of course, I'll miss the students, every single funny, silly, smart, and independently-minded one of them. I hope everyone will come back next year. The first day of school will be September 7.

MAHJONG

Join us for Mahjongg at 1:00 p.m. in the synagogue on the dates below. Bring a Mahjongg card if you have one. It is helpful to know by the Friday before the Sunday game who is planning to play so please email the host if you plan to play. Beginners and walk-ins are always welcome.

BOARD NOMINATIONS

Lori McMann

Dear fellow Congregants,

Agudas Achim relies on dedicated volunteers, and chief among them are the Chairs of Committees. At the start of each new President's term, as stipulated in the synagogue By-Laws, a nominating committee develops a list of members in good standing to present to you for your approval as Standing Committee Chairs, to make up the Board of Trustees. The following people bring a mix of new energy and long years of experience, representing a cross-section of our congregation. This list will be presented for your consideration and vote at the June Congregational Meeting. This year's meeting will be held on Thursday, June 19 at 7:00 p.m. in the synagogue. A Zoom option will also be available and a link will be sent close to the date of the meeting. I hope to see you there.

Also per the Congregation's By-Laws, any member of the congregation in good standing may obtain ten (10) signatures to propose an alternate candidate for any position, which need to be submitted to the office no later than four weeks before the Congregational Meeting. In this case, the congregation would vote on that proposed alternate and the proposed candidate at the June meeting. I hope that you will vote to approve this slate, and get to know the members who are willing to do the hard work of making our community vibrant.

Sincerely,
Lori McMann
President-Elect

ADULT EDUCATION

Lisa Heineman

June 21 Lunch & Learn: Lisa Heineman will talk about “Jewish Frameworks for Social Justice.”

This'll be my last Bulletin entry as Chair of Adult Ed – what an amazing ride it's been! Thanks to the committee members who brainstormed ideas & did the legwork to ensure that our programming went smoothly.

Over the last two years Adult Ed has collaborated with Iowa City Jews (our Public Space Judaism initiative) to create new programs like the Peace & Justice Seder, Big Ideas in Jewish Books, Torah for our Times, and the Urban Shavu'ot Retreat. We've collaborated with Tikkun Olam on events addressing themes like immigration and trans lives. We had programming on Israel/Palestine ranging from a travelogue from wartime Israel to a pop-up exhibit and workshop on the Nakba. We've had countless oneg and Sabbath kiddush talks by members of the congregation, and we've hosted two guest scholars: Rabbi Micah Streiffer and Prof. Samira Mehta.

As many of you know, I'm an educator at heart. During the same period I chaired Adult Ed, I co-created (and now co-direct) a new Jewish Studies Program at The University of Iowa. Both of those duties coincided with my work towards a Certificate in Unbound Judaism from the UnYeshiva, which involved creating and facilitating a retreat called “Dreaming in Jewish” for the larger community. (I'll reprise it for the congregation in the lead-up to the High Holidays.) The synergies among these three communities – the congregation, my university students, and the UnYeshiva – have made these last two years incredibly rewarding for me. In a world with plenty to worry about, I'm ever so grateful to our congregational community for being a place that welcomes innovation, exploration – and even disagreement, for the sake of heaven.

WARM UP AMERICA

Therese Guedon, Jeanne Cadoret, & Jeanne Abrons

Warm Up America will meet on Sundays, June 1 and 22, and July 6 and 20, 2025, from 10:30 a.m. to noon in the social hall.

We welcome visitors.

No prior experience necessary.

We thank those who have donated all-synthetic yarn for our afghans, and the knitters and crocheters who work from home to produce the patches we need for afghans.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Recommended summer activity! Get acquainted with your Agudas Achim Library!

What kind of books are in our library and how are they organized?

- Our books have relevance to “Jewish information, education, enrichment, culture and recreation/entertainment”.
- 3500+ books are shelved according to the Dewey Decimal Classification (DDC)* system.
- Our catalogue of materials is recorded digitally in Readerware, and printouts of the catalogue are in the Braverman Library.

Where are our books located?

- Youth books are shelved in the central area outside the religious school classrooms and are organized in three sections- Holidays, Young Children, Tweens and Teens
- Adult books are shelved in the Braverman Library and the Becker Adult Learning Center.
  - In the Braverman Library, there are adult fiction books, non-fiction books (DDC 000s and through 200s), DVDs, and audio cassettes.
  - In the Becker Adult Learning Center, there are non-fiction books (DDC 300s through 900s), biographies, and scholarly books for in depth study of Jewish texts.

May I borrow a book? How and when?

- Yes! Fill out the checkout card in the back of the book with the date, your name, and your email. Leave the card in one of the checkout card receptacles.

- Return the book when done (or within six months, please ) to the returns area in the Braverman Library.
- It's the honor system so the library is always open.

How are books acquired for our library?

- New books are purchased using money donated to the Library Fund. Please consider donating!
- Book donations are accepted if the content is relevant to “Jewish information, education, enrichment, culture and recreation/entertainment”.
- New books for youth are regularly added through our partnership with PJLibrary.

What is the Library Committee?

- It is an “Appointed Committee” charged with keeping the library organized and functioning.
- Its current members include Becky Gelman, Rabbi Portman, Esther Retish, Hannah Sandler, and Teresa Weiner.
- It communicates with the congregation in the synagogue's monthly bulletin and with table displays at the door to the Braverman Library.
- It encourages input from congregants at library@agudasachimic.org!

*Dewey Decimal Classification (DDC):

CONGREGATIONAL NEEDS FUNDRAISER

This space is dedicated to our congregation's smaller projects, and for people that may have a special passion in these areas of need to help us.

Our Torahs were repaired by a Sofer, but one of our Torahs now has a tear in the parchment that tore through the Hebrew writing, making the Torah not Kosher and therefore unusable for the time being. Further funds will be needed to repair this.

Additionally, our AV System has been installed and we are still needing donations to complete this fundraising project. We now are able to successfully ZOOM our services regularly straight from the Bimah.

Check out our progress! Please consider donating to these important projects!

SBG MINI-COURSES: TRAVEL

Senior Brainstorming Group (SBG) Mini-Course on Travel

The SBG has developed the first mini-course, this one on Travel. Agudas Achim congregants will present their experiences gained from world travels, their perspective and how we can benefit from similar travel experiences.

We begin with the first three lectures and, depending on the level of interest, will add others from your friends and colleagues. All classes will take place at 2:00 pm in the social hall of the synagogue; refreshments will be available.

June 4: Frank Salomon; Ecuador & Peru
